This is the journey of a

Retail store stock Inventory Analytics

The first is that the project will have a timesaving system. Accordingly, if the business now uses a manual inventory system, the electronic system will help to save time. Another result of the project is that the company's inventory system needs to be accurate in order to be able to match up the electronic records with the actual physical stock.

What are their key goals and needs?

What do they struggle with most?

To account outcomers loyalty, recallers median experience which exands out.

What tasks do they have?

in a pull strategy, a brand ix manufacturing inventory based on clean demand from outcomers.

The push strategy is when a learned is positing out product is funded on expected as funds artistic demand. Tracipal como represenmater a sense presentde magnetissación a principal stratagion de proprior de la presenta a consentra rigir sense depresentación.

What changes for them?

Outcome

Knowing about products and services adds value by educating customers on what makes them unique and how it may benefit them. Customer satisfaction refers to the customer's satisfaction with the good or service they received.

What are they able to do now?

What can they finally avoid doing?

What changed in my environment?

